

Spain Invites U.N. Inspection For German Atom Plants

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH

New York, April 13 (AP)—Members of the United Nations Security Council guardedly studied today an invitation from the Spanish cabinet asking the council to determine for itself by inspection whether refugee German scientists are engaged in atomic research in Spain.

Council reaction was immediately lacking, but one delegation which declined to be identified had indicated previously that an invitation from Generalissimo Francisco Franco asking for such an investigation would seem a logical answer for the Spanish leader to make to Poland's charges.

The Franco cabinet, describing the latest accusations against Spain as part of a world Communist campaign, boldly invited the United Nations to send a commission to this country to "prove the absolute falsity" of charges that German scientists are working on the atomic bomb in Spain.

May Go Before Council

While there probably will be no immediate decision on acceptance or rejection of Franco's invitation, the possibility arose that Spain might be permitted to state her case before the council.

Spanish sources said Franco might send a representative to the council, if asked, on the condition that he be allowed to speak without taking the role of defending a nation "on trial."

Some authorities suggested that the council under its elastic powers could call upon a non-voting non-member to participate in its own interests, if desired, in order that both sides might be heard.

Charges "Totally False"

Similarly, in its wide latitude of operation, the council could send members or delegated technicians to Spain as an investigative body if the evidence of Poland—and supporting arguments expected to be offered by Russia, France and Mexico against Spain—indicates that such action is necessary.

The post-midnight cabinet statement in Madrid included the invitation in a full denial of Poland's charges before the council that the Franco regime constituted a menace to peace because it harbored fugitive war criminals, Nazi assets and inventors "devising new means of warfare."

The statement said Poland's charges were "absolutely and totally false" and were part of "the continuous attack by international Communism."

SUGAR STRIKE IS SCHEDULED FOR MIDNIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

A strike was set for midnight tonight by 8,000 AFL and CIO employees in seven east coast sugar refineries which process about two thirds of the nation's cane sugar.

Last-minute attempts were being made by federal labor conciliators to avert the walkout in plants of three major sugar refiners in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore. Four CIO and three AFL locals are involved in a wage dispute with the American National and Revere Refining companies.

In New York, Federal Conciliator Frank E. Walsh said he planned to arrange a conference of union and company representatives before the strike deadline. He met with union spokesmen yesterday and said he would submit their latest demands to the refineries.

Federal conciliators also arranged a conference at Boston with the unions and officials of the American and Revere companies and another was planned in Philadelphia.

Hike Wage Demand

The unions hiked their demand for a wage increase from 15 cents hourly extra to 18 1/2 cents hourly while the companies have offered a 13-cent hourly raise at some plants and a lower boost at others. After wage negotiations broke down last week a fact-finding board was named and will open hearings in Washington next Tuesday.

Major development along the labor front during the last 24 hours was the threat of a strike by 1,300 Transcontinental and Western Air company pilots during the week of April 21. An Air Line Pilots association spokesman said wage demands would increase the present maximum annual pay from $13,200 to $16,000.

The 90,000 residents of Lansing, Mich., were without public transportation because of a strike by members of the AFL Railway and Motor Coach Operators Union against the Inter-city Coach Line company. The operators quit work upon expiration of a deadline for company acceptance of a fact-finding board's recommended $1.10 hourly wage for a 48-hour week.

Continuing labor disputes throughout the country kept idle about 760,000 workers.

PRESIDENT NOT COMING HERE ON MEMORIAL DAY

President Harry Truman will not be the speaker at this year's Memorial Day exercises here, members of the Memorial Day committee were told Friday evening at a meeting in the office of Attorney William L. Meals, center square, secretary of the group.

A letter to the committee from Matthew J. Connelly, secretary to the President, read at the meeting stated:

"Dear Mr. Meals: Secretary Hasset has handed me your letter of April 1 as I am charged with all matters pertaining to the President's appointments. The President has again asked me to thank you for your kind invitation to him to deliver an address in the Gettysburg National cemetery on May 30.

"I only wish it were possible that we might reply favorably to your request.

"However, because of the many demands upon the President's time and the commitments he now has, the President is forced to decline. I know you will understand.

"With all good wishes, sincerely yours, Matthew J. Connelly, Secretary to the President."

The President had previously been tentatively planning to attend the Memorial Day exercises here and a letter was sent April 1 by Attorney Meals to confirm previous arrangements that had been made with Mr. Truman. Originally he had announced his intention of coming provided the pressure of Presidential business did not prevent the trip here.

Members of the committee said that while the needs of the Presidential office prevent the President from visiting Gettysburg this year it was believed that next year Truman will follow the tradition of previous Presidents in speaking in the National cemetery at the May 30 exercises.

Plans to secure another speaker were adopted immediately with the group agreeing on the name of a prominent person who will be asked to deliver the address on Memorial Day.

MINISTERS BACK DAYLIGHT TIME FOR CHURCHES

The Gettysburg Ministerium recommended to the official boards of the various local churches the adoption of Daylight Saving Time for the summer months; heard a general report on plans for the town's first community Vacation Bible school, and arranged for community vespers services for the summer.

While the ministers voted their approval and recommendation that the churches hold services and other activities on Daylight Saving Time beginning April 28, final decision in each church rests with the congregational official boards.

The Rev. Roy K. Miller, chairman of the committee arranging for the community daily vacation Bible school to be held here by the churches of the town, announced that the school will be conducted from June 10 to 21.

Details of the arrangements will be worked out at a meeting to be held April 23 at the Methodist church when town ministers and the superintendents and department heads of the Sunday schools of the town will gather to arrange places of meeting for the various departments of the school and to make provision for the staff of instructors. The teachers will be selected from the church schools of the town and a general supervisor will be chosen.

The Ministerium announced that the summer community vespers will begin Sunday evening, June 9 and will continue through that month and July, starting at the United Brethren church and ending at the A.M.E. Zion church with each town church to be host to one service in the series.

Norwegian Woman Thanks Countian For Gift Of Soap

Mrs. Oscar G. Mummert, who resides near the Red Run church in the East Berlin section, is displaying a letter of thanks which she recently received from Mrs. Ada Horneland, Tysedal, Hardanger, Norway, whose little daughter, Dagfrid, was given a box of commodities in her Sunday school, containing soap contributed by the Women's Work Organization of the Church of the Brethren. With one of the cakes of soap was a corked bottle containing the name and address of Mrs. Mummert, who had made the soap and a description of the church's project for the relief of war victims.

The letter was written in Norwegian. Mrs. Mummert had it translated, as follows:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mummert:

"Heartily thanks for the grand gift! Dagfrid brought it home from her Sunday school. It is dearly appreciated; things impossible to buy. These were dark years when occupied by the Germans, very difficult times, but now blessedly free and get-

TELLS CAUSES OF SHORTAGES OF FARM FEEDS

Several circumstances, and no one dominating factor, are responsible for the serious shortage of livestock and poultry feeds. R. S. Keith, representing the Ralston Farina company, told Adams county agriculture teachers, at their meeting at the court house Friday night.

Continued heavy feeding which began during the war because of subsidies to boost war production, poorer quality of feed due to a wet year last year, the pledging of wheat to Europe, inability to import as much grain from other countries, including the Argentine, starting up of new feed companies, conversion of grains to other uses, and black market conditions, were listed by Mr. Keith as all contributing to the present situation.

Mr. Keith said that many farmers were realizing 30 per cent more from their corn by feeding it to their livestock, than they could make by selling the grain at ceiling prices. He said the situation is serious, and will become worse.

Makes Recommendations

He recommended that farmers take better care of their pastures, use all the range possible for poultry and use substitute feeds. Ground soy beans and cow peas were suggested, and Mr. Keith said skim or clabbered milk could be mixed with grain feed. He also recommended plenty of oyster shell for poultry.

SAYS PW LABOR HERE BIG HELP IN PROCESSING FOOD FOR WAR

Use of German prisoners of war in Adams county's canneries and orchards during the last two years allowed the production of thousands of dollars worth of food that otherwise would not have been processed. E. A. Crouse, head of the local USES office, said today in releasing figures on the amount of work performed by the POWs.

The prisoner of war camp here has been emptied of all prisoners and only a skeleton crew of American soldiers engaged in permanently closing the camp remains there. The camp is located in the former Camp Sharpe site along West Confederate avenue.

In July, 1945, the camp had 932 prisoners all of them engaged in various types of work in the Adams, Franklin, York and Cumberland counties area. Even at its height the number of prisoners did not equal the demand. Crouse added, with the USES office receiving requests for more than 1,100 prisoners at a time.

697 Used Last Year

The first camp was located here in 1944 when approximately 500 prisoners were stationed in temporary tent structures along the Emmitsburg road just south of Gettysburg.

Scheduled to start in February, 1945, the new establishment at the Camp Sharpe location actually did not get underway until much later and only 405 prisoners were present during the first part of the growing and canning season, Crouse said. As a result, during the pea season the USES was not able to meet more than a fraction of the demand for prisoners. However the situation in peas was complicated further by the weather conditions in that both late and early peas came at the same time and the canneries ran day and night in order to get out as much of the product as possible.

Six-hundred and ninety-seven prisoners were used during 1945 by the canners, with one company using up to 200 at a time. The pulp wood operators utilized 373 and the orchard owners hired 426 of the prisoners at various times. For such jobs on the farm as filling silos, cutting corn and harvesting grain 88 of the Germans were employed. One hundred and seventy eight of them worked on such miscellaneous projects as fertilizer plants in York and Adams counties, fresh fruit packing and work in cold storage plants.

Requests for more prisoners than could be supplied were continuous. The Germans did a far better job in 1945 than during the previous year, Crouse reports. During 1944 the prisoners were utilized mostly by canning factories and orchards.

Civilians Had First Chance

During the first few months of the prisoners' stay in Adams county the reaction of countians was mixed toward them. Some canners and others refused to have anything to do with the former enemy troops and some employees who would have (Please Turn to Page 7)

FRUIT HIT AGAIN BY COLD NIGHT

With the thermometer dropping well below the freezing point again this morning, fruit growers in some sections of the county felt today that additional damage had been done to some parts of their orchards.

Ardenville laboratories reported a low of 28 degrees during the night, enough to nip buds, but the reports from representative growers throughout the fruit belt gave a spotty appearance to the possible results from the additional cold night.

Two growers contacted in the northwestern parts of the county said that they did not believe the cold had caused much additional damage although it was still too early to make any more than a rough guess, they added.

Another grower in the western part of the county near Fairfield said that the additional cold night had probably caused some damage, but he believed that the main damage had been done during the previous frosts, particularly on Wednesday. While 50 per cent of his blossoms in one lower section of his orchards had turned black the trees had so many blossoms, he said, that there were still prospects of securing a fair crop from those trees. Last year the fruit on the same trees was frozen out entirely.

STATE MARSHAL TO PROBE BLAZE AT LOCAL STORE

The state fire marshal was expected here this morning to conduct an investigation into a fire discovered Friday evening at 7:55 o'clock at the H. G. Armistead 5 and 10 cent store on York street.

Gettysburg Fire Chief James A. Aumen said shortly after he had completed his investigation of the fire that he would call in the state fire marshal for an investigation. The chief said he had found that the fire, which caused several hundred dollars damage to the rear of the store, had started in four separate places at the same time and that none of the fires apparently had been connected.

His decision was reached after a study of the condition of a work bench in a storage room at the rear of the store. The bench was burned in one spot covering an area of about a foot square on top at the rear of the bench. That fire had apparently cut through a plywood wall and had set off a number of cans of varnish. The fact that that fire had cut through the plywood wall and had set fire to some paint probably prevented the conflagration from getting a head start and causing much more damage.

Bucket Brigade Formed

Persons on York street saw the flames leaping toward the ceiling when several cans of varnish exploded, and called the fire company. While the one fire was burning through to the front several other fires were burning in the bottom of the work bench judging by the charred spots on the sides of bench and on a bottom shelf, the chief said.

As soon as the fire was discovered a number of persons who were in the P and T lunch room next door organized a bucket brigade and, breaking a front door window, they threw water on the fire until the fire trucks arrived a few minutes later.

Firemen had trouble getting through a large crowd of persons who gathered on York street to watch the fire through the front windows.

A number of chicks purchased for Easter sale were in boxes in the rear of the store. The chicks escaped from their boxes and were underfoot as the firemen brought the flames under control.

The fire had apparently started only a few minutes prior to its discovery, Fire Chief Aumen said.

MARKET PRICES ARE UNCHANGED

Prices on the Farmers' market showed little change today from last week. Eggs were 42 cents for large, ranging downward to 32 cents for mediums. Young roasting chickens were offered at 60 cents and others sold for 58 cents. Poultry were 58 and 60 cents.

Greens were plentiful, with dandelion and water cress priced at ten cents a quart measure. Spring onions were ten cents a bunch. Green flowers brightened the market again. Daffodils sold for ten cents a bunch and corses made up of daffodils, narcissus and other blooms were 25 cents.

Fresh horseradish was 25 cents a jar. Dry onions were 15 cents a quart measure. Other prices were: Potato salad, 20 cents a pint; pickled eggs, five cents each; dried apples, 30 cents a quart; turnips, ten cents a quart; sweet cream, 30 cents a pint; butter milk, ten cents a quart; pies, 15 and 35 cents, bread 10 and 15 cents a loaf.

The first strawberry plants were on sale today, the well-known Garretson variety, at $1.50 per 100 plants. Potatoes sold for 35 cents a half peck. Apples were 70 and 75 cents a half peck, Rome Beauties bringing the former price.

The Misses Edna and 'Vinnie' Elcholtz were in charge of refreshments and entertainment following the business session. Hostesses for the next meeting, to be held May 10 at the Legion home were announced as Mrs. Erle Deardorff and Mrs. Howard Hartzell. Mrs. Jesse Snyder was named as a new member of the Auxiliary. The president, Mrs. Ivan Breighner, presided.

FREEDOM FOR INDIA AGAIN IN BALANCE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The new negotiations over India's freedom from England—one of the greatest and most dangerous of the world's unsolved problems—are verging on their crucial moment.

The British cabinet delegation, which recently arrived at New Delhi with a fresh offer of independence, has had its consultations with the various Indian political parties. Now the time has arrived for those political organizations to face each other across the conference table and try to iron out differences which have existed for generations and frequently have resulted in bloodshed.

The London delegation—headed by Lord Pethick-Lawrence, secretary of State of India, and including Sir Stafford Cripps, who conducted the ill-fated mission of 1942—has notified the Indian public that the time has come for "decisive consultation between Indian parties." The statement characterizes this as "the most important phase of the negotiations" and says that "it is a phase which calls for the utmost efforts from the leading statesmen of India and from the cabinet mission to arrive at a solution acceptable to all sides."

Muslims Outnumbered

It is indeed a moderate description of a volcanic situation which has erupted with extreme violence periodically.

The two major political parties are the All-India Congress, dominated by Mahatma Gandhi, and the Muslim League, headed by Mahomed Ali Jinnah. One of the great difficulties in the past has lain in the fact that these parties divide not only on political affairs but along religious lines. The name of the Muslim League speaks for itself—it is made up of Muslims (Mohammedans). The All-India Congress claims to be non-religious, but it is comprised mainly of Hindus.

One of the greatest difficulties between the two major parties lies in the fact that the Hindus outnumber the Muslims three to one, and the latter are fearful of trusting themselves to such a majority.

Because of this, Jinnah is holding out for "Pakistan," that is, an independent Muslim state. The Hindus, on the other hand, are standing pat for a unified India. The immediate problem, therefore, is to reconcile these divergent views.

However, with expert handling I believe India's problem can be solved. And so it is indeed encouraging to hear from the British mission that it is confident it will be possible to "reach that decision which the people of India so anxiously await and which will be welcomed throughout the world."

Supreme Court Sets Conviction Aside

Philadelphia, April 13 (AP)—George Bausewine, 77-year-old former Norristown police chief, won a two-year battle against his conviction on a bribery charge yesterday when the state supreme court reversed a previous decision by Montgomery county court.

Justice James B. Drew said the court was satisfied that evidence was "clearly insufficient" to establish Bausewine's guilt, and directed that the case be dismissed.

Bausewine was convicted of accepting bribes and of non-feasance in office by the Montgomery county court in April, 1944. He was accused of accepting $50 a month for not investigating operation of slot machines at a Norristown club.

Bausewine's conviction previously had been upheld by the state superior court.

CHINA PEACE GROUP BLOCKED

Alvan C. Gillem, Jr., disclosed today that the Sino-American peace committee of three, with substitutes having replaced all original members, is powerless to act in the Manchurian crisis.

Gillem said he has acquainted General Marshall, whom he temporarily replaced as the American member, with the seriousness of the Manchurian situation. He is awaiting instructions from Marshall, who explained from Washington yesterday to return as President Truman's special envoy to China.

The committee marked time today, its fact-finding mission to Manchuria halted short of that civil strife-torn territory because of its impotency.

A source close to the committee said Marshall's immediate return is vital if accomplishments thus far toward unifying China are to be preserved. Marshall personally negotiates between Chinese government and Communist factions in January. The agreements have not been made effective and the Manchurian situation admittedly is more tense than when Marshall left for Washington a month ago.

A reconnaissance plan dispatch by Sino-American truce headquarters here to the area north of Shan-hai-kwan and south of Suichung returned with photographs showing five breaks in the Peiping-Mukden railroad at the throat of the government communication line to Manchuria.

Childless 9 Years, Woman Has Triplets

Philadelphia, April 13 (AP)—"It's wonderful. I wanted a boy, but I'm glad to have three girls," Vincent Incollingo, 37, said, mopping his brow, when doctors told him his wife had given birth to triplets yesterday.

Physicians told papa Incollingo, but said they wouldn't tell the 30-year-old mother immediately because "it might be too much of a surprise."

She had been childless nine years. The triplets ranged from three pounds, 14 ounces to four pounds, 15 ounces, and were reported in good condition, as was their mother.

MEAT SHORTAGE

Housewives were forced to figure out meatless menus in many sections of the nation today.

Butcher shop proprietors in Chicago, the world's packinghouse center, helplessly attempted to cope with the customers' clamor for meat by offering a few chickens, sausage or the usually least popular cuts.

The growing shortage appeared to be worse, in numerous cities, than at any time during wartime rationing.

TOKYO PRESS WARNS OF OLD "INFLUENCES"

Tokyo, April 13 (AP)—A Conservative party whose leader once wrote a book praising Hitler and Mussolini won the most seats in Japan's post-war diet, by count of Wednesday's record-breaking vote of nearly 26,000,000—and an influential Tokyo newspaper warned today that "old spheres of influence still continue to be strong."

The so-called Liberal party, a rightist organization headed by Ichiro Hatoyama, finished with a slight plurality over the Social Democrats, which has both right and left factions, and the Progressives, also rightist. None won clear cut control.

The count, with all but five of 468 seats decided: Liberals, 132; Social Democrats, 99; Progressives, 98; Independents, 80; Communist, four; minority parties, 59.

Coalition Bloc

Hatoyama, who acknowledged he wrote the book but insisted he later disavowed its statements, immediately called for a coalition bloc to oust aging Premier Shidehara's cabinet. There was some talk of a possible early cabinet resignation.

Assessing the results of the election, in which women voted for the first time and chose at least 35 of their sex to the diet, the influential newspaper Asahi said:

"The fact many votes were cast for old influences such as the Progressive and Liberal parties demonstrates that realities do not change at a jump. . . . We must remember that old spheres of influence still continue to be strong and that these feudalistic, conservative spheres constitute the greatest impediment to freedom or progress in the Democratic revolution of Japan."

Angry Democrats Seek Party Scalps

Washington, April 13 (AP)—Angry House Democrats hit the warpath today for the scalps of officials at the party's national headquarters responsible for recent mistakes which have riled legislative tempers.

One lawmaker, Representative Cox of Georgia, even went so far as to say the expedition may culminate in an effort to oust National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan himself.

Most of the lawmakers expressed doubt, however, that such drastic action would be taken. They predicted, instead, that Hannegan would merely be called on the carpet, although some of his aides would get the axe.

Cox told a reporter the whole matter probably would be discussed at an official caucus of House Democrats tentatively set for Monday. A caucus is a party meeting at which policies usually binding on members are decided. "The caucus may draft a message requesting the President to dismiss Hannegan," Cox asserted.

LEFTY AUNGST, CERVINO STAR IN BULLET WIN

One-hit pitching by Lefty Russ Aungst and a homerun by Joe Cervino, second baseman, in the third inning with the bases full featured the 6-1 victory scored by the Gettysburg college baseball team over Elizabethtown college here Friday afternoon in the Bullets' opening game of the season.

Aungst had a no-hit no-run game going into the eighth inning. Elizabethtown tabbed its only run in that frame. After two were out, Myers reached second base on a wild throw to first base by Aungst. On a hard hit ball to deep short, Shirk reached first base for a scratch hit and when Hart's throw escaped Howard, Myers continued to the plate.

The Bullets' sewed up the tilt in the third inning. After Aungst had fanned Kaczowski and Hart drew walks. Ecker was struck by a pitched ball to fill the bases. Cervino then caught hold of one of Shirk's curves and placed a long drive for a home-run.

Another run came in the fourth on a two-base wild throw by Meyers on Martini's bouncer on a slow infield hit by Aungst which Martini scored on through a bit of fast base running.

The final Bullet run was produced in the eighth inning. Howard fanned but reached first base when the third strike escaped the catcher. Aungst sacrificed Howard to second from where he scored on Kaczowski's single.

Today the Bullets play Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore.

Phils And Athletics Open With City Series

Philadelphia, April 13 (AP)—Improved postwar editions of the perennially tail-end Philadelphia Phillies and Athletics open the baseball season at Shibe park today in the first of a two-game city series.

The teams arrived from the south yesterday, deadlocked at two victories apiece in the rivalry which ends tomorrow.

Centerfielder Vince DiMaggio will be the only holdover from the Phillies' regular 1945 team. The Athletics will have war-returns at nearly every post.

Williams Grove To Hold Races Sunday

Big car auto racing under sanction of the American Automobile association will be ushered in Sunday at Williams Grove speedway for the first time since Pearl Harbor in a gala program arranged by Roy Richwine in which the nation's top big car stars will compete for a $3,000 purse.

The green flag will drop on probably the greatest field of drivers yet assembled on the Williams Grove speedway, located 10 miles southwest of Harrisburg off U. S. Route 15.

Among the field of starters expected for Sunday's program are such aces of the Indianapolis Speedway classic as Ted Horn, of Pateros, N. J.; Jole Chitwood, the Cherokee Indian from Pawhuska, Okla.; Bill Holland, White Plains, N. Y., and Tommy Hinnershitz, Reading.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 13 (AP)—The boxing managers' "guild" is feuding with the Michigan commission about what the managers think was an unjustified penalty against one of their members. . . . As a result, Detroit Promoter Nick Londe and possibly Commissioner John J. Hetche are expected here Monday to smooth things out so that New York fighters won't always be "bust" when they're wanted in Detroit. . . . The All America football conference has decided to sign only college players, preferably graduates, hereafter. Does that mean after you knock an opponent down and step on his face you'll have to apologize in a "Hahvahd" accent?

FIT TO BE TIED

Clemson and Davidson were playing a typical early-season baseball game the other day—ragged but with a close score. . . . As the teams went into the sixth with the count at 4-4, a Clemson stenographer who had been given time off from her duties for the game arose and started out of the stands. . . . "Where you going?" asked a nearby baseball fan. . . . "Five o'clock—quitting time," the gal replied and walked on out.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

High school and amateur boxing are going strong in the Pennsylvania hard coal region, where kids used to think only a sissy fought with gloves. And, starting next semester, Maryland U. resumes its compulsory boxing program for freshmen and sophomores. . . . Jake Powell, former Yanks, Senators and Phillies outfielder, is returning to the Washington sandlots where he got his start. He'll play for a furniture company team, which isn't a bad spot for a ball player to go when the old rockin' chair begins to get him. . . . Former middleweight Champion Freddie Steele has been signed for a featured role in a movie called "The Black Angel." . . . We thought the angels were confined to the wrestling racket.

OBSERVATION CAR

Since the Mexican league rum-pus arose, this Dept. has noticed several suggestions that any ball player good enough for the majors should be paid at least $5000 (some make it to 10 G's). . . . With an all-season player limit of 25, that would make a minimum roll of $125,000, plus whatever it cost for the 15 others each club is allowed until June 15. . . . From here it seems any such figure would make it very tough for a kid whose ability to make the big league grade looked doubtful. Maybe most clubs could afford the dough but it wouldn't be good business to keep a $5000 man riding the bench as "insurance" against possible injuries when he could be shipped back to the minors.

Baseball Briefs

Brooklyn, April 13 (AP)—Rookie Right-hander Randy Gumpert, whose contract was officially taken over by the New York Yankees from their Newark farm only yesterday, was selected by Manager Joe McCarthy to face the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field today. The Brooks will counter with Veteran Kirby Higbe and Rookie Walter Nothe.

Cleveland, April 13 (AP)—Bill Voiselle, who is expected to hurl the opening game for the New York Giants against the Philadelphia Phils, will take a three-inning turn on the mound against the Indians here today. Allie Reynolds is slated to pitch for the Tribe who have won four of the five exhibition contests played by the inter-league rivals.

Columbus, O., April 13 (AP)—Winding up spring training competition, the Detroit Tigers tangled here today in an exhibition game with the Cincinnati Reds. The Detroiters need a victory to level their spring training record against big league competition at 16 victories and an equal number of losses.

EAST BERLIN LOSES

East Berlin high school's baseball team dropped a 4-3 decision to Red Lion on the latter's field Friday afternoon.

MICKEY OWEN CHANGES HIS MIND AGAIN

Mexico City, April 13 (AP)—Seeing himself "the whipping boy of the Dodgers," Mickey Owen, Brooklyn's veteran catcher, has "leap-frogged" into the Mexican Baseball league.

For better or for worse he changed his mind yesterday for the third time and decided to jump organized baseball and play in the Mexican league after all. Two weeks ago, when he was discharged from the navy at Sampson, N. Y., he announced he would come to Mexico, but last Tuesday, in San Antonio, asserted he had reconsidered and would rejoin the Dodgers.

The 36-year-old backstop attributed his latest change of heart to "some things that Branch Rickey (Brooklyn president) had said about me that I didn't like." Rickey had announced Owen would be traded when he rejoined the Brooks.

"Not Through Skipping"

"I was so confused that I didn't know what to do," Mickey said after he arrived dramatically late yesterday afternoon by airplane, accompanied by his wife, Gloria. "Rickey had told me over the long distance telephone to come back. Alfonso Pasquel (a brother of Jorge Pasquel, Mexican league president) asked me to stay. Everybody was putting pressure on me, some to go back, some to stay."

"I finally left San Antonio to talk to Rickey. I confidentially believe that I would have gone ahead and seen him if I hadn't read in the newspapers of his remarks about me. He was going to punish me and make me the whipping boy of the Dodgers."

"Somewhere in Louisiana we turned back to Texas. We met one of the Pasquels in Houston and from there went to Nuevo Laredo where we stayed Thursday night at the home of Alfonso. From there we took a plane here. I'm glad to be here and I'm going to stay in Mexico."

In New York, Rickey commented: "I can't understand that young man, but in any event, he was through with the Dodgers. x x x it is my opinion the boy hasn't stopped skipping yet. I believe he will change his mind again, but perhaps not so soon. His pride won't let him."

TO COACH AT WAYNESBORO

Calbert Welliver, 24, Hazleton, who will be graduated from Gettysburg college this year, has been named head basketball coach at $2,100 per year by the Waynesboro school board.

Welliver will be in complete charge of the basketball program. According to Superintendent of Schools Marsby C. Little, Welliver will start a program of intramural basketball while the football season is in progress in an effort to discover and develop talent. Mr. Little formerly was assistant Adams county superintendent of schools.

The new head coach will set up a basketball program which will cover both the senior and junior high schools. It is hoped to have the program include, if possible, the sixth grades. A systematic program of training will be established and the entire basketball program will be under Welliver's supervision.

Mr. Little told the board that Paul Burger, who was named head coach of athletics last year, readily agreed to the change and will continue as head football coach.

Welliver will receive $1,800 for teaching social studies in the junior high school and $300 for his work as head basketball coach.

Welliver is one of the outstanding players developed at Hazleton high school by its veteran basketball coach, Hughie McGeehan. He was a regular on two outstanding teams, 1939 and 1940.

Zivic Slow Winner In Decision Fight

Portland, Ore., April 13 (AP)—Fritz Zivic, 149, Pittsburgh, Pa., former world's welterweight champion, eked out a decision over Lincoln Stanley, 153½, Oakland, Calif., in a slow 10-round boxing bout here last night.

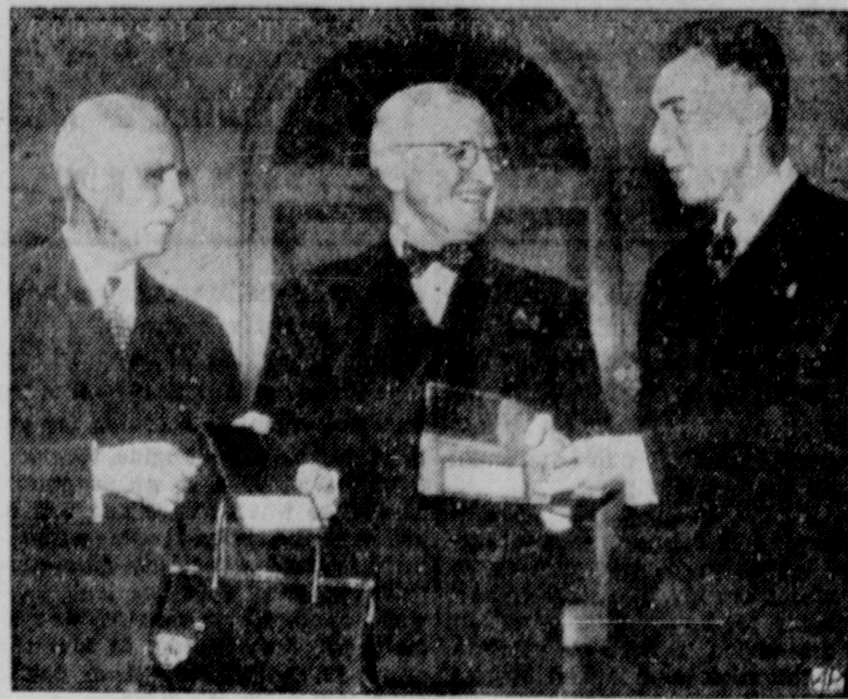

There were no knockdowns, and the going was ragged throughout, with more clinching than battling. Zivic took four rounds by very narrow margins, Stanley took two, and the rest were even. Zivic's left eye began swelling in the second round and that was the only mark on either fighter.

Giants Buy Millers At Undisclosed Price

Minneapolis, April 13 (AP)—Horse Stoneham, president of the New York Giants of the National League, in a joint statement with Mike Kelley, owner of the Minneapolis Millers in the American association, Friday night announced the purchase of the latter team for an undisclosed amount of money.

Stoneham said Kelley would remain as president of the Millers and that no other changes were contemplated, other than that "we may furnish pennant-winning ball players to the Minneapolis team."

Sixth Game In Ice Playoffs Tonight

Cleveland, April 13 (AP)—Plenty of "high-sticking" and an over-populated penalty box were forecast by many rinksideers today as the "feuding" Cleveland Barons and Buffalo Bisons prepared for the sixth game of the American Hockey league championship playoffs tonight.

A newly-developed "feud" between members of the Cleveland and Buffalo squads broke out on the Bisons' ice Thursday night in the tough fifth game of the Calder Cup series captured by Buffalo, 6-1. Barons' Coach Bun Cook reported his charges were preparing to make a "bee line" for their second straight title tonight as Cleveland's forward wall of Brayshaw, Burlington and Bartholome became intact for the first time in the final playoff series.

Cleveland, leading 3 to 2 in the series, can clinch their second straight title here tonight, while the Bisons can cop their third title in four years by winning tonight's contest and a Sunday duel at Buffalo.

Just Folks

SENSIBLE

'Tis sensible to put away
Some money for the rainy day;
To keep a fund, perhaps for lending,
But some prefer the joy of spending.

'Tis sensible to look ahead
Where need will dog the path we tread,
To save to meet the cost of living,
But some prefer the joy of giving.

'Tis sensible to keep and hold
What will protect us when we're old,
But some prefer to deck the table
And share life's good things while they're able.

THE JOY OF UNLOADING

I always like to stand and watch the unloading of a wagon of produce from the country, or the unloading of a ship from some distant port. I think of all the toil and planning that went into that load of fruitage. And then I think of the endless health and happiness that soon is sure to result from that unloading.

It is inspiring to visit the monuments that generous men and women have left behind, as their contribution to future generations, as a result of their toil and vision. Fine libraries, schools, hospitals, and churches. Go through the great museums and art galleries, and there you will see contributions, that have been given for the pure joy of giving, joy unloaded for the benefit of those with that priceless inheritance of appreciation.

How tragic is the dissipation of wealth, gained by another! On the other hand, how inspiring to see it unloaded for the benefit of the many. Andrew Carnegie did it in the form of libraries that he scattered far and wide. And the Rockefeller have been doing it for several generations, in a variety of ways.

People who give away their earned wealth may die poor, but they die enriched! I think of that beautiful Clements Library of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, created through the joy, love, and generosity of William L. Clements, with probably the finest collection of Americana items in existence, a monument for the ages. I understand, however, that he died poor in possessions, but certainly not in spirit.

There is no life comparable with the life of Christ. Yet, at no time, could he point to a spot that he could call home. Daily he unloaded his spirit, comforting and restoring the sick, blessing the children along his way, and rebuilding the faith of all who came within his influence. And now, for nearly two thousand years, that influence has been unloaded upon a world too busy and unthinking to make the truths he spread universal in their application. His one Golden Rule would transform all nations and all peoples into one happy family!

The things we give away, somehow keep coming back to us, in a more golden garb than when they so happily went from us.

Trend In Clearances
While it is still true that clearances for exhaust valves should be greater than for intakes on most engines the trend is toward giving all valves the same clearance, or lash. There is a hint of this in several of the newest models, where the lash is the same for exhausts as it is for intakes. The explanation is simple enough, once you stop to realize what has been happening to the cooling system. Due to use of a water distribution tube and new ways to control the amount of coolant at any given point, and its rate of circulation, it is now possible to keep the exhaust valves and seats at more nearly the same temperature as the intakes. Thus the expansion rates are approximately the same in some engines.

Heat As A Tool
Hot water is one of the handy tools which experienced service men use more than most motorists realize. For instance, before removing or installing a piston pin it is customary to dunk the piston in boiling water. After a minute or two immersion the piston will expand enough so that its pin boss will draw away from the pin, permitting for easier removal. Water used in this way also affords an excellent check on the accuracy of fit.

It All Makes Sense
A reader is mystified because every time he takes a long trip with his car the battery is weak the next morning. This ought not to be a problem, for the chances are that on his way home the night before the battery is discharging while he is using all the lights, the car heater and probably the radio.

Then there is K.L.L. who believes that the carburetor float level is too high and that this accounts for the hard starting of his engine. Wouldn't a high float level be an advantage at a time when the engine due to action of the choke, is using a maximum amount of fuel? We must consider, however, that the high level could cause an overrich mixture at all times, thus tending to foul the spark plugs. Without clean points plugs will delay the start.

No Advantage Now
When a reader complained to his automobile dealer about the engine's reluctance to accelerate an investigation showed that the jet of the carburetor's accelerator pump was much larger than it should be. Not until then did the owner remember that someone had given him better acceleration when wartime gas was used by making the jet opening larger to feed more gas. With present gasoline this larger opening simply provided more gasoline than the engine needed. Overfed the engine slowed down momentarily when acceleration was demanded.

Q. What would cause the ammeter to register charge when the horn are sounded? The battery is installed properly, and the ammeter

Checking for causes of overheating and loss of coolant? Don't forget the possibility of loose baffle plates in the radiator top. If not properly positioned these places may divert the incoming water and shunt it out the overflow pipe.

A Useful Trick
Burning of connecting rod bearings often can be traced to a bad camshaft bearing. This, incidentally, accounts for many cases of failure of the engine to hold oil pressure. You can discover the bad bearing by using a pressure pump on the oil line.

If you are ever faced with the problem of no oil at all one of the possibilities to consider is a clogged oil tube to the gauge.

DRAFT HOLIDAY GAINS SUPPORT

Washington, April 13 (AP)—Snow-balling support for a draft "holiday" forced reluctant House leaders to indicate a willingness today to go along on a temporary induction ban in order to get the draft law extended nine months from May 15.

But they prepared to fight to the last ditch an amendment prohibiting the induction of anyone under 20—an amendment army spokesmen said privately would nullify the entire legislation.

Apparently there wasn't much they could do about either the "holiday" proposal or the "teen-age ban" for both rolled up heavy support when outlined yesterday during the opening of debate on the draft extension measure.

These two red-hot issues are scheduled to be disposed of one way or the other by nightfall, along with a motion to kill outright the entire extension legislation. And to allow plenty of time for a decision, Speaker Rayburn called the House into early session again today for the second successive day in an effort to send the bill to the Senate for a vote next week.

Draft "holiday" support has been nowhere near as conspicuous in the Senate, whose military committee has recommended a straightaway extension of Selective Service, without any such innovation. The present odds seemed to be that the two chambers would pass radically different measures, leaving the ultimate form of the draft extension to be worked out in Senate-House conference.

'Operation Hannegan' Very Much On The Job

Washington, April 13 (AP)—"Operation Hannegan"—nickname applied to a little group of administration aides assigned to sparkplug the Truman program through Congress—is very much on the job, but quietly.

"That's the way we want it," said one of the task force today. "The worst thing for us is publicity."

"There's been a lot of misconception of our work. Some writers have called us the 'Hatchet Gang.' From this some legislators get the feeling they are being scouted whenever one of us appears on the Hill."

"As a matter of fact, all we are trying to do is carry out the platform pledges of 1944. Too often in the past we have drawn up platforms and then forgot them."

Adams county's Reformed churches are part of the Mercersburg synod.

R. Paul Smith, Hagerstown, is chairman of the campaign in the Potomac synod and the Rev. S. L. Flickinger, of Winchester, Va., is associate synodical chairman.

The new home, which will occupy the same site as the present building, will have accommodations for seventy guests and staff.

FIRM SETS NEW RUBBER RECORD

The largest synthetic rubber output ever produced by a single company in a 12-months period was turned out in 1945 in the three government plants operated by the B. F. Goodrich Chemical company in Louisville, Ky., and Port Neches and Borger, Texas, Joseph E. Codori, B. F. Goodrich dealer in Adams county, said today.

"Last year's production in the three plants totaled 388,577,000 pounds—enough rubber to manufacture nearly 39 million passenger car tires of the most popular size now in use—and it represented an increase of nearly 56 million pounds over the 1944 production of the same plants," Mr. Codori said.

A substantial percentage of the company's 1945 output was GR-S-10 rubber. This, Mr. Codori explained, is a special variation of GR-S rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich chemists, and is an important factor in enabling the company's "first postwar tires" to outwear pre-war natural rubber tires.

"In addition to the three government plants, B. F. Goodrich Chemical company operates a privately-owned unit in Akron for the manufacture of special purpose synthetic rubber," Mr. Codori said. It was in this plant that the first commercial

HUGE COST TO FEED BEATEN AXIS PEOPLE

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, April 13 (AP)—The United States today was reported planning monthly expenditures of almost $60,000,000 to help feed occupied Germany and Japan until mid-1947.

A total of $700,000,000 has been earmarked for this purpose in the War Department's budget estimates for the 12 months beginning July 1, according to an official who withheld his name.

To make up current deficiencies food already is being shipped into the U. S.-occupied zone of Germany at the rate of more than 50,000 tons a month. About 25,000 tons of rice and rice substitutes have been delivered to Japan thus far.

Ration Rate Secret
This food if paid for from War Department funds is to "prevent disease and unrest," Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor explained in first announcing to the Germans the extent of American aid.

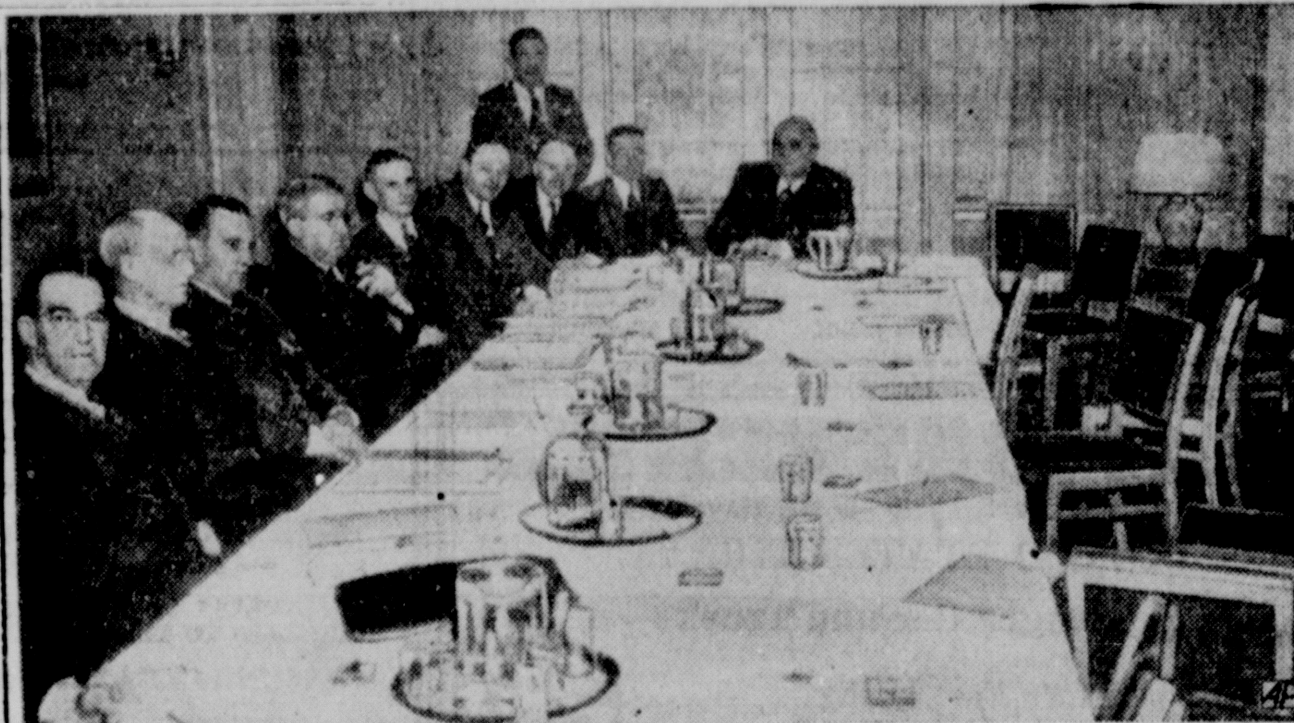

The basic ration of the 18,000,000 Germans in the U. S. Zone was reduced this month from 1,555 to 1,275 calories. Officials declined to reveal the ration contemplated under the new budget estimates.

By the end of June, it was estimated that the United States will have supplied 350,000 tons since the German ration first was supplemented late last year.

RICKERT NEW MAN FOR CUBS

Chicago, April 13 (AP)—Marvin Rickert, the lean, larruping rookie who did brawny Bill Nicholson out of his outfield job with the Chicago Cubs, was front and center today as the Cubs and White Sox came home to wind-up their disjointed "city series."

After doing civic battle at the Sox's Comiskey Park today and at Wrigley Field tomorrow, the two clubs square away for the regular season get-away Tuesday when the Sox entertain Cleveland and the National league champions invade Cincinnati.

Unlike the White Sox, who have made many changes since last season, the Cubs present the benching of Nicholson, National league home-run and runs batted in champion in 1943 and 1944, as the chief variation from the line-up that won the 1945 title for Manager Charley Grimm.

It will take more dynamite than the feeble batting fireworks Nicholson popped this spring to dislodge Rickert from the right field occupancy. The 25-year-old Long Branch, Wash., left-handed swatter scotched any chance Big Nick might have had to grace the opening line-up when he blasted a homer, double and single yesterday as the Cubs trimmed the Sox 11-2 at Davenport. Ta, Rickert hit .389 in spring exhibition games compared to .120 for Nicholson.

Rickert, fresh from coast guard service, got the jump on Nicholson when Bill was playing contractual hide-and-seek with the Cubs early in spring.

PRECIOUS—This valuable gray-furred chinchilla, with 15 others, arrived in California by plane from a Yosemite Park fur ranch. Stewardess Mavis Corkery holds it.

Charles Dickens and William Makepeace Thackeray who belonged to the same London clubs, and were giants of the Victorian novelists, were personal rivals and in one angry break didn't speak for five years.

George Washington postponed his famous farewell address for four years. It was originally prepared for delivery at the end of his first term, before he agreed to accept a second.

More About Sugar Beet Sirup

A recent article here on the subject of growing sugar beets for making table sirup to bridge the present sugar shortage has elicited more than customary interest. Letters requesting copies of directions for growing beets and preparing the sirup indicate American housewives are not satisfied to depend on limited supplies of cane and beet sugar. With a delightful gesture of disdain for the spirit of defeatism they are going out and grow at least a partial substitute for sugar — a tasty sirup made from sugar beets grown in the home garden.

Readers who have not yet written the editor for their free copies of this timely information are urged to do so at once. Soil should be prepared immediately and seed ordered for planting within the next three weeks. A 3-cent stamp with name and address will bring a copy by return mail. Just ask for directions for making sugar beet sirup.

Sugar beets will thrive in any location where garden varieties of beets do well. They demand a deeply mellow and well drained loam. Hard and shallow soils should be avoided for this and all other root crops.

Seed of a sweet and early maturing variety may be ordered from any of the national seed firms, as listed in their current catalogues.

Cultural methods are not unlike those required for growing garden beets, with the exception that seed should not be planted before cold weather is past, preferably in early May. Like other beet seed, those of sugar beets are actually clusters of seeds which usually produce numerous plants. They should be sown in a continuous drill and later after growth appears the plants should be "thinned." This consists of cutting with a sharp hoe at right angles across the row to leave the plants in blocks 10 inches apart. Later all but one sturdy plant in each group are removed by hand.

Seed should be covered firmly but shallow. Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the importance of a finely pulverized seed bed.

There are two special processes in processing the beets and making the sirup. First, the ripe beets are sliced very thin directly into a large container of water kept for one hour at a temperature between 174 and 180 degrees. The slices must be submerged to soak out the sweetness while the temperature must be maintained within the advised range.

Next, the extract must be treated for an hour in a pressure canner or cooker in order to remove the "beety" flavor. After this second operation the juice or extract is ready to be boiled down or evaporated into sirup, after which the sirup should be sealed at once in sterilized bottles, cans or jars.

One pound of seed plants about a tenth of an acre. With rows 18 inches wide, this means that an ounce of seed will plant about 175 feet of row. A 50-foot row of thrifty beets should make from five to eight pints of finished sirup. From these general facts inexperienced growers may estimate their plantings.

Well matured sugar beets may be made into sirup at once or buried and held into winter, for making sirup later or for feeding to poultry, hogs and cattle.

Our national sugar shortage is likely to remain acute for at least another year. Therefore, this simple and inexpensive means of bridging the sugar gap should be considered by every farmer and gardener. The editor invites all questions readers wish to ask on growing the beets or making the sirup.

Backs State Rights To Tideland Oil
Washington, April 13 (AP) — Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), said today he had decided the best solution to the controversy over ownership of oil in coastal tidelands was for the federal government to give the interested states a quit claim to the property.

"I have withdrawn my resolution asking that the issue be left to the Supreme Court," Capehart said. "I have declared my support for the McCarran bill, under which the government would renounce its possible rights in favor of the states."

MONDAY, TUESDAY
Heralded as one of the outstanding musical films of recent years, RKO Radio's spectacular "George White's Scandals" stars Joan Davis and Jack Haley as the two top fun-makers, supported by Drummer Gene Krupa, his band, and a large and talented cast.

The musical revels are held together by a well-knit story involving the broken romance of Miss Davis and Haley as the comedy stars of "The Scandals," and another between Philip Terry in his role of "The Scandals" dance director and lovely dancer, Martha Holliday, as the daughter of a former "Scandals" queen who married into British peerage. The film reaches delicious heights of comedy before the course of true love is allowed to run smooth.

WEDNESDAY
A new musical show with girls and gags, lots of songs and production numbers is coming to the Majestic theatre on Wednesday. It's Columbia pictures' "Meet Me on Broadway," and the cast includes Marjorie Reynolds, Fred Brady, Jinx Falkenburg, Spring Byington, Allen Jenkins, Gene Lockhart and Loren Tindall in the featured roles.

THURSDAY
When boys meet girls, boys kiss girls and boys get girls in Columbia pictures' screwiest joyride of the year, "One Way to Love," featuring Willard Parker, Marguerite Chapman, Chester Morris, Janis Carter and Hugh Herbert at the Majestic theatre. They never stop loving, you'll never stop laughing.

It's a kisser-diller of a comedy thriller . . . a one-way glamour trip to Hollywood with the year's funniest foursome.

FRIDAY, SATURDAY
Against the colorful background of the city of Abilene, Kansas, as it was back in the pioneer years just after the Civil War, Producer Jules Levey has set his current production based on the Ernest Haycox best-seller, "Trail Town."

The film is titled "Abilene Town," and depicts in dramatic fashion the violent feuds between the arrogant cattle barons of the period who strove in high-handed fashion to keep the steadily arriving homesteaders from settling in the community.

Prominent in the cast is Randolph Scott portraying Dan Matthews the first marshal of Abilene. This character is actually based on that of Tom Smith, one-time New York cop who migrated to Abilene and cleaned up the town. Co-starring is lovely, brunette Ann Dvorak, who served as an ambulance driver in Britain during the past four years. She plays, to perfection, the role of Rita, an alluring song and dance entertainer at one of the frontier town's most popular taverns.

The willet bird is noted for its unusual noisiness.
